Online Research Study: Developing a New PKU Assessment

You are invited to take part in an online/remote research study examining the personal experiences of people with PKU to develop an assessment that captures the effects of PKU and treatment on those with PKU. The research study is being conducted by Dr. Shawn Christ from the University of Missouri.

Who:

- Teenagers with PKU (12 – 17 years old)
- Adults with PKU 18+
- Caregivers of children with PKU (<12 years old)

What:

Study participation is all online and can be done from any computer/tablet with a good internet connection. Participants will:

1. Talk with study personnel on Zoom
2. Discuss personal experiences with PKU and PKU treatment in a group interview on Zoom

How Long:

Total participation time is about 2 hours total.

Compensation:

You will be compensated $50 for completing the research study.

Benefits:

You will contribute to making the experiences of living with PKU more visible, thereby making treatment options more accessible in the future.

How to participate:

If you would like to participate in this research study or if you have questions, please contact our research coordinator, Sianna Madsen, by phone or email:

Phone: (573) 884-8109

Email: CNLab@missouri.edu
